HILTON® CHICAGO

Largest global assembly of people living with alopecia areata

NAAF's Conference is four days of empowerment and education bringing together alopecia areata community members of all ages, as well as medical and industry experts. For four decades, this signature event has changed the lives of people living with alopecia areata and their families! Conference sessions and workshops are designed to appeal to the newly diagnosed, those who have lived with alopecia areata for years, and everyone in between. Presentations focus on the latest research and treatment information, advocacy, support, mentoring, and sessions on living with alopecia areata.

RELATIONSHIP TO ALOPECIA AREATA

Children's Camp

Held during the conference, the Children's Camp supports children within the alopecia areata community by nurturing their self-esteem and empowering their confidence. Creative arts, activities, and a field trip are interspersed throughout the four-day event, specifically designed for children, tweens and teens, ages 5-17.

Lifelong connections and friendships are made as children interact with others who have alopecia areata, as well as their siblings and friends. You never know who might stop by the camp and interact with the children, maybe a celebrity or professional athlete!

"It is our family's Disney World!" –Katie, mother of a child living with alopecia areata

The National Alopecia Areata Foundation (NAAF) drives research to find a cure and accessible treatments for alopecia areata, supports those impacted, and educates the public about the disease. Alopecia areata is a common autoimmune disease affecting nearly 7 million Americans that results in the uncontrollable and chronic loss of hair.

Founded in 1981, NAAF is the largest alopecia areata advocacy organization in the world. NAAF connects with members of the alopecia areata community, including those living with the disease, family members, healthcare providers, and researchers through its support programs, and services. NAAF is a 501(c)3 nonprofit and a Candid platinum-rated charity, a Charity Navigator Four Star charity, and meets the rigorous standards of the Better Business Bureau Wise Giving Alliance and the National Health Council.
